WASHINGTON IS SILENT

Delicacy of Situation Is Putting Muzzle on Talkers

Paris, Dec. 16.—Premier Poincare, mulintimation from the state de-Washington that United States is willing to consider rian whereby she may aid in the stilement of the reparations question in the interest of the general memical situation in Europe. It was said that it is a fact that m efficial communication had been seived from the American government and that French officials cirhe would await more definite inmation before commenting upon esident Harding's supposed plans. A high official, however, unburbeed himself to the extent of admitting that the French government sufficiently worried over the stion to welcome any sort of help. 'It would be interesting to know, erted this authority, "whether the od will of Germany is taken into ant in the new plan, and whethits author has reflected that put-Germany on her feet is not the ly thing required, but that it is sary she be convinced her trea-bligations must be fulfilled." The French government is reprepied as not yet disposed to release sany from the pledges given to allies under the treaty of Veres to guarantee the payment of It is regarded as poser Poincare that the French point view might be changed if France ald be assured that the portion asned to her in any new settlement

This "informal" method of apmaching the problem, a white house pokesman said yesterday, cannot be mducted on "the stage."

The Paris dispatch did not draw ficials here from the entrenchment silence. But it aroused great inst in so far as it reflected the official attitude in Paris toward the seral principle of American helptess in the emergency.

In view of the situation that district. hight about the Anglo-French rpeons deadlock at London, it seems bious that any American overtures st be predicated upon a knowlthat they would be welcome both London and Paris.

It is that preliminary stage of netation which now is in progress. m an offer of good offices or help the collision any other form until it was certain would be accepted.
